Working time: 30 Minutes

Crafting is not only a relaxing hobby, it also gives you the opportunity to fully express your artistic streak. Our detailed instructions for making cards with stamped flowers show you how easy it is to create beautiful, personalized greeting cards from simple materials. Whether for birthdays, weddings or just for fun - handmade cards are always something special and bring joy to both the maker and the recipient. Let your creativity run wild and impress friends and family with your unique creation!

Design your own flowery cards: Creative fun with stamps

Step 1: Create a colorful base

Start by spreading the stamp ink over the card and the corresponding envelope using a so-called blending brush (a special brush for gently applying color). This technique ensures smooth transitions and a harmonious color surface. Make sure to use smooth movements to achieve an even color pattern. Allow the paint to dry well before continuing to avoid smudging.

Step 2: Prepare the stamp motif

Now choose a silicone stamp with a flower motif. Place the stamp firmly on an acrylic block. An acrylic block serves as a handy handle for the stamp and enables precise placement of the motif on the card. Moisten the motif side of the stamp with stamping ink. Make sure that the stamp is inked evenly to achieve a clear imprint.

Step 3: Stamp the motif

Now you are ready to print your chosen design on the card. Carefully place the stamp on the card and press it on evenly with gentle pressure. Carefully remove the stamp to prevent the ink from smudging. Repeat this process for the envelope so that the card and envelope match perfectly.

Creative finish

If you like, you can add more details or small accents, such as glitter, hand-painted details or colorful ribbons. Allow the stamped flowers and any embellishments to dry completely before using or sending the card.

Your personalized greeting card awaits!
