Decorative sign with sewn doves

Instructions No. 574

Difficulty: Advanced

Working time: 40 Minutes

A nice present for newlyweds is this extraordinary door sign, which also cuts a fine figure at the church portal. The doves from the white silk are stamped to match the sign.

Here's how it works

For each pigeon, transfer the templates for body and wings twice each to the silk with a line-ex pencil and cut them out with approx. 1 cm seam allowance. Place all pieces on the right side accordingly

First sew the wings together except for a small opening, turn them over and stuff them with filling cotton wool. Then set the darts. Place the finished flights between the fuselage sections and staple them together with Pins . Then sew the body up to a small opening, turn it over, stuff it and set the darts on the tail. Close the seam with mattress stitch

Stamp small curlicues on the body of the pigeons, Ribbon, stick on top hat and flowers, close eyes with the Pearl-Put Pen
After drying, stamp the writing on the heart and wipe the edges with Ink Pads . Then stamp the heart with the Pearl-Pen border.

Write "just married" in the sheet with the line-ex pen and write "just married" with the Pearl Follow Pen. Glue an approx. 22 x 3 cm large firm cardboard centrally behind the heart. Then fix the pigeons on the right and left from heart on the cardboard. Finally, glue small mistletoe twigs or some boxwood from the garden to the heart and place small satin bows on top.

Fabric cuts of the silk pigeon sew together on the left side, turn it over, stuff it with filling cotton wool.

Stitch the wings and tail tip of the finished stuffed and sewn pigeon with topstitching.

Little satin roses are a must-have on every wedding decoration. Decorate the heart and the silk doves with the little florets together with a mistletoe or with boxwood.
