Door sign with dried flowers

Instructions No. 2268

Difficulty: Advanced

Working time: 3 Hours

Our sign makes quite an impression. It is easy to copy and welcomes your guests in a friendly way. Another possibility is to use this sign as a name tag. The applied dried flowers are also a beautiful eye-catcher and very trendy.

This is how you model the sign:

Cut the Keramilight in half and roll out. The mass should be larger than the decorative sign. Now let it dry for 24 hours. During the drying time the mass will shrink a little.

After the drying time, place the sign with the front side on the mass and trace it with a pencil. It is best to cut the edges and holes of the sign with a cutter. The edges can then be sanded clean.

Now paint the edge of the mass in brown and write the text with a marker. Here you can proceed according to your wishes. Should it be a "Welcome" to your guests or perhaps your surname as a house sign?

Now place the finished sign on the wooden plate and then glue on the dried flowers using hot glue. Then attach the cord. The holes can be closed with pattern bag clips. This looks particularly beautiful.
