Easter bunny from willow wreaths

Instructions No. 1069

You would like to tie wreaths for Easter, but also make Easter bunnies? Why not both in one. In this handicraft instruction we show you how to make a sweet round Easter bunny from willow wreaths and jute ribbons. This extraordinary Easter bunny will make a great decoration for your home

And it's that easy:

What kind of material do I need to make the Easter bunny?

For the Easter Bunny you need two wreaths of willow, one slightly larger than the other. The larger willow wreath forms the belly of the Easter Bunny, the smaller one the head. You will also need jute cord and Jute ribbon each in Natural Brown and colorful ribbons to suit your taste. The ears of the rabbit are cut out of cardboard - a template for this is attached for download

How do I make the willow wreath Easter bunny?

Tie the two wreaths together with jute cord and fix them with hot glue. Print out the pattern, transfer it to a cardboard and cut out the ears. Wrap the cardboard ears with Jute ribbon and fix the ends again with hot glue. Now the dark Jute to a large bow and the colorful ribbons bound to a slightly smaller bow. Place the loops on the neck of the hare, i.e. where the two wreaths are connected. Finally, glue the roses on.

Our decoration tip: In these places your Easter wreath will be an eye-catcher

- put the Easter wreath on the garden bench in front of the house
- lean the Easter Bunny against your outside wall in front of the entrance door
- hang the wreath of rabbit on a ladder or stairs in the house
- let the Easter Bunny work in your living room corner
